FRIDAY MORNING JAN 1 1864

A Happy New Year!

Our cordial salutations are respectfully tendered this morning to our patrons and friends we trust that the new year may be full of pleasure and prosperity to all In many respects, there have never been brighter prospects than those which now shine before our community we hope they may be abundantly realized, and especially do we hope and believe that the cloud of national sadness and mourning which hangs over our land, will be dispersed and yield before the year closes, to the blessed sunlight of peace and freedom—that a restored Union bringing joy and gladness, shall embrace and illustrate the whole American people

The present year cannot fail to be an epoch full of vast and solemn consequences the war, the national elections, the vital issues of liberty and national life depending thereon—concern not merely the generation now living, but reach forward in their results to a mighty race of freemen and to the world's progress in civilization and refinement Truly,

' We are living, we are dwelling,
In a grand and awful time—
In an age, on ages telling
To be living is sublime

There is work to do this year No patriot can be idle or indifferent Duty, humanity, the integrity of our institutions of freedom—all summon us to unwonted and untiring activity. Let us not fail in these responsibilities, but working in our various spheres, to our utmost ability, we shall make the year happy, by spending it wisely and faithfully

For ourselves, we can only promise our readers that our highest and constant aim shall be to furnish reliable intelligence with all possible dispatch, to enforce with all our ability, the duties pressing upon every citizen, and to overcome and banish to the extent of our power, the mischievous influence which treason and a love for human slavery are seeking and expecting to exert in our young State, under the stolen garb of Democracy In so doing, we trust our honest efforts will be appreciated, and will meet with just encouragement from those whose approbation is worth having

MILITARY CHANGES —We learn that by orders just issued from the War Department, Col. J Steinberger, commanding the Washington Territory Regiment of Volunteers, is to be mustered out of service as soon as he reports himself at Vancouver We know nothing of the causes of this action of the Department, and had supposed that the energy and care manifested by Col Steinburger in raising and managing his regiment were so fully appreciated at Washington, as to be likely to secure his continuance in its command during its term of service Maj Rumrill will forthwith take command of the post at Walla Walla Major N H McLean has been ordered to perform the duties of Assistant Provost Marshal General for this District, and will relieve Col. T C English, who has just arrived here to attend to that business

European Intelligence.

The Australia, from Liverpool December 5th, has arrived

It is reported that another ram was lately launched at Hull, and that she had steam up and immediately put to sea with sundry Southern looking gentlemen It is also reported that there is danger and complication between France and the United States, owing to California and Sonora (?) supplying the Mexicans with arms

Three war steamers were recently sold by the British Admiralty. In addition to the Victor, alias Rappahannock, there were the Phœnix, Cyclops and Amphion The latter is a 26-gun screw frigate It is feared they are intended for the rebels

Austria and Prussia have offered to abide by the treaty of 1852 regarding the crown of Denmark Great Britain will advise Denmark to make concessions, and thereby remove all danger of hostilities. Denmark will regard the entrance of Federal troops into Holstein as a declaration of war The Federal Diet has not yet determined to carry out coercive measures

A great storm of three days duration proved most disastrous to England, both on land and sea. The damage done to property was very extensive Fifty-four bodies had floated into the harbor of Holyhead

A letter to the Daily News says The rebel privateer Rappahannock is still believed to be at Calais. She is very fast The writer charges that it was well understood at Sheerness what she was intended for

The Pope of Rome had received a deputation from the rebels, who presented letters from Jeff Davis It is believed the reception had was not of an official character, and that it was merely a compliment

A great meeting had been held at Preston, England, at which resolutions in favor of continuing neutrality were passed

Fould's financial statement shows the accumulated deficits will reach nine hundred and seventy two millions of francs, and a loan of three hundred millions is proposed The Mexican expenses during the year were two hundred and ten millions

Three ships were fitting out to blockade the western coast of Mexico as far as Acapulco

The position of the Dano-German question was unchanged England and Russia were making a movement for a pacific adjustment

LONDON, Dec 6 —The British crown lawyers have pronounced the condemnation of the British bark Springbok, by the New York District Court, illegal and vexatious Lord Lyons is to remonstrate

The Bank of England has advanced the rate of discount to eight per cent , causing a depression of the funds

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to December 19.

NEWBERN (N C December 12 —Refugees reached here this morning from Wilmington who state that General Whiting, commanding the rebel forces at that point left with a brigade recently, for Tennessee He was relieved by General Martin whose command in and about Wilmington consist of only one small brigade

Running the blockade into Wilmington continues to increase It is estimated that a half million dollars worth of goods arrive every twenty four hours

North Carolina is nearly abandoned by rebel troops there being but two brigades in the State It has been decided by the banks as a matter of safety to dispose of their specie which they are now paying out as fast as possible to citizens of the State giving one dollar in gold for four of North Carolina money

General Butler is raising an army of colored troops in his department These black regiments of cavalry were recently started and are rapidly filling up

NEW YORK, Dec 18 —Richmond papers of December 16th have a telegram from Atlanta announcing very particularly that Grant had evacuated Chattanooga and was falling back n Nashville tearing up the railroad as he retreated and that Hardee would pursue him Longstreet, it was said, would attempt to hold Northeastern Tennessee The papers were very bitter on President Lincoln's Message

HALIFAX, Dec 17 —The United States steamer Ella and Annie captured the steamer Chesapeake this morning in Shelburne harbor All but three of the crew escaped

WASHINGTON Dec 17 —On December 10th over two thousand persons had availed themselves of the President's proclamation, in Norfolk, by taking the oath

General Sickles has asked for a Court of Inquiry upon the charges contained in Halleck's report Other officers have made similar requests, to disembarrass the President

General Schofield has asked to be relieved from the command of the Department of Missouri President Lincoln has signified his intention to send Schofield's name again to the Senate as a Major General having failed to secure confirmation last session The President has also determined to assign him to another command Rosecrans will probably be sent to Missouri

A special dispatch to night says General Hitchcock has gone to Fortress Monroe with final propositions to the rebel authorities for an exchange of prisoners He will probably offer to exchange man of man grade for grade, without reference to the officers or men of colored regiments

FORTRESS MONROE, Dec 17 —Two of our surgeons who have been in prison at Atlanta (Ga) for some time arrived last evening They report that while passing through Richmond they were shown through the prisons there, and they say they found our prisoners quite comfortable and well fed, though they were partly furnished from the provisions supplied by the loyal States

The Richmond Whig of Dec 15th reports an explosion at the Chesterfield coal pits 20 miles from Richmond, on the 10th Sixteen were killed and three wounded

WASHINGTON, Dec 18 —The number of veterans who will return to the service from the Army of the Potomac will reach upwards of 20 000 and an equal if not a larger proportion of veterans from other armies will volunteer for three years or the war

NEW YORK, Dec 18 —The Herald's special dispatch, dated Washington, Dec 18th, says The Democratic members of Congress had a Caucus this evening at the Capitol, which was very fully attended Future plans were heartily discussed There was a general unanimity of expression in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war A Committee was appointed to arrange and report at a future meeting the time and place for holding a National Democratic Convention for the nomination of a candidate to be supported at the Presidential election The Caucus then adjourned to meet on Monday evening, the 21st A number of border State men who have not generally acted with Democrats this session were present and took part in the proceedings It is intended to place the party fairly and squarely upon a war platform

CHICAGO, Dec 18 —The case of Cannick & Hamsey against the Government came up for argument before the First Controller of the Treasury at Washington, on the 10th Wm Curtis Neys of New York opened the argument for the claimants He will be followed by Milton Whiting of Baltimore, and Lamb of Washington, who are there to reply for the Government The case will probably occupy the entire week The case, which has been in litigation about ten years, involves a claim of nearly $2,000,000, with interest, on account of mail service on the Pacific coast

CHATTANOOGA, Dec 17 —During the march of troops from here against Longstreet at Knoxville, Granger's corps got in advance of Longstreet's ammunition train, while Howard's corps was in the rear There was no escape for it, and forty car loads of ammunition and two locomotives were run into the river near Loudon

CUMBERLAND GAP, Dec 16 —A portion of Longstreet's army made a descent upon Rogersville on the 14th, and engaged our advance near Beal Station about 2 P M The fighting has continued with various intervals since that time I hear of reverses to our arms, but the accounts are confused An eye witness informs me of the capture of two wagon loads of Quartermaster's stores by the rebels on Monday evening, 14th, Our forces under Wilcox have fallen back to "Last Well," and are fortifying We are uncertain as regards Park's command, but he is supposed to be holding his own at some point between Beal Station and Strawberry Plains Fighting is in progress to day at Blair's Cross roads

LEAVENWORTH, Dec 18th —Accounts from the Plains represent that there is great suffering among the men and stock In consequence of a snow storm, no hay or grass can be had The stock are dying off by hundreds from starvation, Many lives are known to be lost by the intense cold Over a hundred trains are out, and much anxiety is felt for their safety Fourteen inches of snow has fallen here It has drifted, and all the roads are blockaded No mail for three days

CHATTANOOGA, Dec 18 —John Morgan escaped across the Tennessee at Gillespie's Landing, sixty miles above here on Sunday afternoon, the 13th instant Capt Cummings who escaped from Columbus with him, was captured, together with 14 of his escort Gen Howard's command at Athens has cavalry scouting the country Possibly Morgan may yet be taken

Wheeler has rejoined Hardee and reorganized his cavalry force near Dalton Refugees and deserters say the rebel cavalry will be actively engaged all winter Hardee's head quarters are at Dalton His pickets extend as far as Tunnel Hill His force, including the Georgia militia is 35,000, and represented to be utterly demoralized

CAIRO, Dec 18 —On Dec 12th three companies of Federals had a fight with 350 guerrillas near Fort Pillow 28 of the latter were captured and several wounded 60 conscripts were released Our loss was one wounded

A land expedition was sent a few days since against the rebels at Water Proof The rebels were routed with a loss of 70 killed, several wounded and a few prisoners

[illegible] Dec 17 —The New Orleans correspondent of the Times under date of Dec 10th, says Gen Washburn holds the coast of Texas from the Rio Grande to within 100 miles of Galveston Another division of the 13th corps starts for the Texas coast to day and the expectation is that Galveston is the next place to be put down in the history of the war as having been reduced by the Federals Gen Franklin is still at New Iberia with about four divisions Gen Weitzel goes north to join Gen Butler's command in a few days It is not known who takes his place

NEW YORK Dec 18 —[illegible]

[illegible] the rebels [illegible] Charleston [illegible]

Later reports say the [illegible] at La Grange and Alexandria [illegible]

NEW YORK Dec 19th —A dispatch [illegible] U S forces Western Virginia [illegible] Union people [illegible]

The Times special dispatch says the Tax Commission [illegible] will take [illegible] on the 11th of January The first [illegible] will be in Arlington [illegible]

Gen Hitchcock has returned from Fortress Monroe [illegible] Butler's plan [illegible] suffering soldiers [illegible] southern prisons Gen Butler is to send to City Point [illegible] successful exchange on this basis will be resumed instructions have been given tending to the rights of colored soldiers as prisoners of war On the contrary the [illegible] which the rebel authorities are to be held strictly accountable with regard to [illegible] prisoners

The Chesapeake having been captured in British waters will be given up to the Colonial authorities Secretaries Seward and Welles have so telegraphed to Halifax It is not believed however that the pirates will be allowed to put to sea again

A very large proportion of the rebels in our hands—not less than one third it is said—are desirous of enlisting in the navy It is understood the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy are agreed to permit them to do so

BALTIMORE, Dec 19th —A dispatch dated off Charleston 15th says Gillmore again shelled the city on Thursday night throwing a number of shells into different parts of the city and it is believed doing much damage All the rebel batteries opened a heavy bombardment and continued for several hours The storm is washing away the rebel obstructions and yesterday a large number of heavy timbers bolted together with iron came down with the tide They were secured and towed ashore by the [illegible] The amount of timber that came down is so large that it is believed the obstructions must be seriously damaged We have no other news of importance

Messengers from Gen Sullivan's cavalry beyond Winchester report that Averill's cavalry was in Staunton yesterday and tore up the railroad for six miles, between there and Gordonsville This is very important if true but lacks confirmation

NEW YORK Dec 19th —The Herald's Morris Island correspondent says the cause of the washing away of the obstructions in Charleston harbor was the famous floating battery getting adrift in the last gale and smashing through the obstructions She now lies ashore near the north end of Folly Island

A report from Beaufort says the U S gunboat Daylight had been blown up by the rebels Another gunboat had chased a blockade runner ashore and the Daylight went in to take possession when a rebel battery threw a shell into her magazine destroying her and killing most of her officers and crew This needs confirmation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19th —Seward's diplomatic report will be ready for the press in a day or two

The Senate of Virginia in session at Alexandria passed a bill yesterday for the election of delegates to a Convention to be held on the 28th of January to alter and amend the Constitution so as to abolish slavery in the counties of Accomac, Northampton Princess Anne Elizabeth City and York, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth By the President's proclamation of January 1 1863 all the slaves in the remainder of the State are free The Act is [illegible] a reason for the change that without it, officers of the State in executing the laws between master and slave will be brought in conflict with the authorities of the United States

The Evening Star has the following The authorities here have dispatches from Gen Grant at Chattanooga late last night at nine o'clock They do not indicate any recent change in the state of affairs there Grant is in constant and direct telegraphic communication with General Foster at Knoxville and had there been a fight between General Longstreet's forces and ours pursuing him as the press dispatches state Grant would [illegible] have sent such dispatches here The fact that he says nothing about such engagement induces the belief that the statements via Cincinnati are exaggerated

WASHINGTON Dec 19th —In the Senate to day Wilson from the Committee on Military affairs reported back with amendments the bill amending the Enrollment Act One amendment repeals the $300 commutation The amendments were ordered to be printed

FORTRESS MONROE, Dec 18 —Gen Butler has ordered the enrollment of all able-bodied male citizens, colored and white between 18 and 45 in this district January first

A magazine explosion at Yorktown destroyed nearly all the buildings in town

NEW YORK Dec 19th —Gold 152½

LATEST

San Francisco dispatches of Dec 21st say that the steamer [illegible] has arrived bringing the newspaper mail

New York private telegrams of Dec 19th say Hold all our liquors, excise tax will be $1 per gallon Gold 152

New York Dec 17th —Proposed excise tax on whisky 80 cents Sales of whisky 10 [illegible]

News from San Luis Potosi say Mexican officer has just returned from the U S where he has made arrangements for vessels to sail under letters of marque from the Mexicans to attack French commerce in the Pacific

Capt Fletcher agent of the Board of Underwriters received the following telegram Saturday evening Conjointly with the Navy Department we have determined on a contract to save the Monitor [Signed], J D Jones, President Board of Underwriters

HALIFAX, Dec 19th —This afternoon the steamer Chesapeake and prisoners were delivered over to the Government Upon the arrival of the boat containing the prisoners at Queen's wharf, the excitement became intense The prisoners were immediately seized and hurried off by the crowd in attendance, and the Government officers going to arrest the prisoners under a warrant, were seized and held by prominent citizens and the officers were rendered powerless to perform their duty The crowd finally succeeded in getting off the pirates in a small boat, The affair caused the greatest excitement throughout the city What course the authorities will pursue in the matter it is impossible to say The pirates are all at liberty and scattered throughout the provinces

NEW YORK Dec —The Morning Star from New Orleans 13th and Havana 15th, has arrived

Meagre advices from Vera Cruz state that the French are slowly advancing towards the interior

Communication with Vera Cruz is very precarious

Gen Diez had made a great raid through Queretaro, Mexico Oaxica, and other States, capturing 270 prisoners Reinforcements and troops are still being sent to St Domingo

Crosby and Logan appeared in the vicinity of Natchez early this week and attacked our forces under Gen Gresham, but were repulsed and pursued It is said we took eight hundred prisoners

Creditable witnesses from Richmond state that our prisoners are better fed than their own people, and better than they would be were it not that the desperate straits of the Confederacy must be kept from our knowledge Fresh beef is now $4 per pound fresh bread $3 50 per loaf The consequence is that thousands must starve, or go into the army and divide rations with their families

It has been [illegible] by the rebels to [illegible] every male citizen between 15 and 50 inclusive for one last [illegible] effort in favor of the Confederacy [illegible] With this immense mongrel horde Jeff Davis means to [illegible] upon Washington, Pennsylvania and [illegible] commanding in person He will endeavor to stimulate the passions of these hordes by the most extravagant stories

STEAMER ORE[GON] — This unfortunate vessel still makes her bed in the river, and unless the rains last night swell the volume of the river considerably, she is destined to a long stay where she now lies, as the water falls more rapidly than she can be lightened Her passengers mostly returned to the city last night doubtful whether they will not be compelled to go below by way of Victoria on the steamer now due, but not much expected till tomorrow night The steamers Julia and Express have received full cargoes from the steamship, and the John H Couch towed up to the city yesterday a large scow load of her freight We understand it is the intention of her agents to remove every pound of her freight and coals, and give her a fair chance to lift a clean keel out of the mud

SILVER PRESENTATION —Quite a pleasant affair came off in the Hall of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company last evening, which was participated in by the Active and Exempt members with invited guests, among whom were past and present officers of the Department, officers and members of the different companies, and representatives of the press The meeting was organized by calling M M [illegible] Esq to the chair, when E M McGraw, stated that they had assembled to show their respect and esteem for their late Foreman Mr Marks Jaretzky, who, after two years of devoted and efficient labor as leader of the particular organization, was, at the late election chosen to a wider field for his skill and experience, as First Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department He had endeared him to his whilom associates by his urbane and social disposition, and as a token of the personal esteem in which he was held, Mr McGraw, in behalf of his fellow members of the exempts, presented Mr J with an elegant and massive silver trumpet Mr Jaretzky received the token with a modest and graceful eloquence, the meeting was resolved into committee of the whole, champagne baskets, bottles and glasses were emptied, scintillations of wit rose and sparkled like the white bubbles that chased each other from brim to brim of each glass, complimentary, social and patriotic toasts were drank, speeches made, and the utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed We are glad to be present on such occasions, and always retire feeling benefited socially and intellectually

[A]n effort was made yesterday to deposit the boiler landed from the Oregon on board the steamer Fair Play, which had been dropped down to Couch's wharf for that purpose, but by the time the heavy mass had been moved to the edge of the wharf, it was found necessary to remove in order to make room for the Oregon City boat, and so the new boat will receive her boiler before to-morrow night The boiler presents about 700 feet of heating surface, and her engines will be some seventy horse power. The cylinders, wheel-shaft and spokes are already in their places, and the boat is rapidly nearing completion.

INQUEST —An inquest was yesterday afternoon held on the body of an indian found murdered on a flat in the rear of the Penitentiary The body had to all appearances been there some time, and horrid gashes across the head plainly indicated that he had been murdered The verdict of the jury was that the deceased, an indian unknown, came to his death from an instrument in the hands of some person or persons unknown.

IMPORTATION OF LIME. — During the year just closed—between January 1st and December 31st, 1863—5,114 barrels of lime have been brought to Portland from abroad for consumption in this State. The number of barrels actually consumed during the year was [illegible] barrels Pretty good for a new country and young State

BROKE DOWN —A new chute on Carter's wharf, foot of Alder street, gave way yesterday under the pressure of some dozen cords of wood piled upon it by some party innocent of apprehending that the heavy mass was supported only by chains. He gained some useful information, but it cost him the price of the wood, which floated down stream.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY — The sum of $700 was yesterday added to the subscription for a Mercantile Library Association, making in all $1,700 already subscribed.

GOLD —Wells, Fargo & Co received last night about $10,000, and a similar quantity came down in the hands of some twenty or thirty passengers

THEATRICAL —To-night "The Soldier's Return, and "Black Eyed Susan" will be presented at the Willamette.

THE Post Office will remain closed, to-day, after 10 A M , until the overland mail arrives

New Store and New Goods.—The NEW FURNITURE WAREROOMS of HURGREN & SHINDLER [illegible] found on First street between Washington and Alder. Their assortment embraces many goods of a finer quality and design than have ever been imported to this city [illegible] hope that by an extensive and well-selected [illegible] moderate prices together with a long experience [illegible] business they will retain the increasing patronage [illegible] they have enjoyed Their new place of business is [illegible] block west of the Pioneer Hotel and convenient to the [illegible] Landing.

Oregonian Carrier's Address

NEW YEAR'S DAY, 1864

Hail! you friends ... [illegible]
Not only to say ... [illegible]
Who ... [illegible] ... New Year's Call,
And ... [illegible]
But first ... [illegible]
Here's luck to ... the new born year.

Hail to thy birth ... [illegible]
... [illegible]
... [illegible]
... [illegible]

Being as this is New Year's Day,
We'll bring a little by the way
Of letting off our surplus gas
By showing what will come to pass
When we have had a ... [illegible]
We ... [illegible]

Our war is ... [illegible]
Than foreign nations of ... [illegible]
They prophesied that we should fail,
Deluded by a jealous hope
To see the Grand ... [illegible]
But bless their souls not yet—
Our Standard ... [illegible]
Shall ... [illegible]
Till Freedom's Banner proudly waves
And ... [illegible]

"The flag that braved a thousand years,"
Has sunk before our ... [illegible]
Ranked with the proudest more than peers,
Already we have grown
Above all ... [illegible]
We left ... [illegible]
The latest ... [illegible]
March to the turn of Destiny

This Continent is ours of right
We'll have it ... [illegible]
At present ... [illegible]
And back around ... [illegible]
He's pretty good at playing "Bluff,"
And beats the British slick enough,
But we know how to play it some
And when we get things fixed at hum
We'll ... up ... [illegible]
And if the fellow means to stand
We'll clean him out with all his crew
To the tune of "Yankee Doodle Doo,"
The "Monroe Doctrine" ain't played out
Nor we ain't quite "gone up the spout"
We'll let 'em know that we're "around,"
And got a firm on that ere ground

When John Bull breaks, and sells his stock,
We'll bid in Canada for luck
Some day we'll want to take a stroll
And raise our flag on the "North Pole"

That's so—you know some poet said it long ago,
"No pent up Utica contracts our powers
You bet this boundless Continent is ours"

The worthy sons of noble sires,
Fight now as fought the men of yore
Kindle anew their altar fires,
And swear the oath their fathers swore,
That purse, and heart, and hand, shall be,
Pledged to the cause of Liberty.

Columbia's annals long shall tell,
How fought her sons and where they fell,
At Shiloh, Vicksburg Donelson,
And other fields as hardly won

"Hail and Farewell" Brothers who sleep,
Proudly serene in Death's repose
Your grateful countrymen shall keep
Each noble name till Time shall close
Poets shall rise, with tongues of flame,
And weave you coronals of living fame

Yet friends, the CARRIER, in pain,
Would turn him to a sadder strain.
Look to the fields of war,
Where carnage rolls its car,
And death bolts fly afar;

The Frozen cheerless camp
The Winter's dews and damp,
The sentry's deathful tramp

God bless that hero band,
Strengthen each heart and hand,
Who fight to save our land

In the battle's wild tempest our Banner is borne,
They have met the proud foe in the day of his scorn,
Help, help them! Those thousands, that mangled and torn
Mark the swaths of war's terrible reaper
Up Brothers, up, Sisters! for Honor! for Life!
Send "Angels of Mercy" where horrors are rife,
Wipe the tear-drops of anguish that follow the strife,
Bury proudly each sleeper

CARRIER

$302 BOUNTY
TO Volunteer Recruits!

THE FOLLOWING AMOUNTS WILL BE PAID TO Volunteer recruits enlisted by recruiting officers to serve for three years, or during the war, in old regiments now organized, whose terms of service expire in 1864 and 1865

At first regular pay day after entering the service $102 00
At first regular pay day after six months service, an additional instalment of bounty will be paid 40 00
At the first regular pay day after end of the first years service an additional instalment of bounty will be paid 40 00
At the first regular pay day after eighteen months' service, an additional instalment of bounty will be paid 40 00
At the first regular pay day after two years' service an additional instalment of bounty will be paid 40 00
At the expiration of three years service, or to any soldiers enlisting under this authority, who may be honorably discharged after two years' service, the remainder of bounty will be paid 40 00

If the Government shall not require these troops for the full period of three years and they shall be mustered honorably out of the service before the expiration of their terms of enlistment, they shall receive, on being mustered out, the whole amount of bounty remaining unpaid, the same as if the whole term had been served.

The legal heirs of soldiers who die in the service, shall be entitled to receive the whole bounty remaining unpaid at the time of the soldier's death

Volunteers serving in three years' organization, who may re-enlist for three years or the war, in the companies or regiments to which they now belong, and who may have at the date of re enlistment less than one year to serve shall be entitled to the bounty and premium of $402, to be paid in the manner provided for other troops re entering the service.

Actual Scenes in the Field

One of the best army correspondents, in a letter to the Chicago Journal, written after the terrible fight at Chickamauga gives the following statement, which we especially commend to the attention of those who have aided the Sanitary Commission, in its sublime and blessed work. We are sure that no one can read it—particularly no woman —without being thankful for the opportunity to assist in such a humane and patriotic undertaking

Go with me to the Surgeon [illegible] quarters when the battle is beginning when he lays off the green sash and the tinseled coat, and rolls up his sleeves, and spreads wide his cases filled with glittering silver and makes ready for work. They begin to come in slowly at first—one man nursing a shattered arm another borne by his comrade [illegible] three in an ambulance, one on a stretcher—then [illegible], and faster lying here and there, waiting each his terrible turn. The silver steel grows cloudy and lurid, right arms are lopped like slips of golden willow, lest that never turned from the foe forever in [illegible] without an owner, strewing the ground. The knives are busy, the saws play, it is busy work. Ah, the Surgeon with heart and head, with hand and eye fit for such a place, is a prince among men—cool in to the quick and tender, he feels among the arteries and fingers the tendons as if they were harp strings. But the cloud thunders and the spiteful rain patter louder and fiercer, and the poor fellows come creeping away in broken ranks like corn beaten down with the flails of the storm "My God" cried a Surgeon as looking up an instant from his work, he saw the mutilated crowds borne in "My God! are all my boys cut down?" And yet it thundered and rained. A poor fellow writhes, and a smothered moan escapes him. "Be patient, Jack," says the Surgeon, cheerfully, "I'll make you all right in a minute" and what a meaning there was in that "all right!" It was a right arm to come off at the elbow and "Jack" slipped off a ring that clasped one of the poor, useless fingers that were to blend with the earth of Alabama, and put it in the pocket! He was making ready for the "all right." Does Alabama" mean here we rest? If so, how sad, yet glorious, have our boys made it

"who sink to rest,
With all their country's wishes blest."

Another sits up while the Surgeon follows the bullet that had buried itself in his side, it is the work of an instant, no solemn council here, no lingering pause, the Surgeon is bathed in patriot blood to the elbows, and the work goes on. An eye [illegible] out upon a ghastly cheek, and silently the sufferer bides his time "Well, Charley," says the Doctor, he is dressing a wound as he talks, "what's the matter?" "Oh, not much, Doctor, only a hand off!" Not unlike was the answer made to me by a poor fellow at Bridgeport, shattered as a tree is by lightning "How are you now?" I said "Bully!" was the reply. You should have heard that word as he said it, vulgar as it used to seem, it grew manly and noble, and I shall never hear it again without a thought of the boy that uttered it on a dusty slope of the Tennessee, the boy—must I say it—that sleeps the soldier's sleep within a hundred rods of the spot where I found him. And so it is everywhere, not a whimper nor a complaint. Only once did I hear either. An Illinois Lieutenant, as brave a fellow as ever drew a sword, had been shot through and through the thighs, fairly impaled by the bullet—the ugliest wound but one I ever saw. Eight days before he weighed 180. Then he could not have swung 120 clear of the floor. He had just been brought over the mountain, his wounds were angry with fever, every motion was torture, they were lifting him as tenderly as they could, they let him slip and he fell perhaps six inches. But it was like a dash from a precipice to him, and he wailed out like a child, tears wet his pale, thin face, and he only said, "My poor child, how will they tell her?"—it was only for an instant—his spirit and his frame stiffened together and with a half smile he said "Don't tell anybody, boys, that I made a fool of myself!" The Lieutenant "sleeps well," and alas, for the "poor child"—how did they tell her?

A soldier fairly riddled with bullets, like one of the battle-flags of Illinois, lay on a blanket gasping for breath. "Jemmy," said a comrade, with one arm swung up in a sling, and who was going home on furlough, "Jemmy, what shall I tell them at home for you?" "Tell them," said he, "that there isn't hardly enough of me left to say 'I,'—but hold down here a minute—tell Kate there is enough left to love her till I die." Jemmy got his furlough that night, and left the ranks forever. It seems to me that all true women must envy that girl's fate. Shot away all but his heart, that still beat true, who would not be the dead soldier's bride forever? Oh, there is nothing anywhere here to make you blush for human weakness, the rebel bullet is not moulded that can kill western manhood.

* * * * * * * *

Remember I am writing only of the days after the battles of the Chickamauga—only of one scene in this tremendous tragedy. I have followed the wounded and the languishing to the Surgeon's quarters at the edge of the field, and now comes that journey over the mountain roads to Bridgeport, that beating every wound with hammers, mile after mile. Watch me with the rocking, jolting, lurching train of 300 ambulances, each with its sore, bruised burden, and tell me which is the most terrible, the whole, strong regiment marching into the storm, or the broken mutilated column creeping away to shelter. You can hardly believe that one of all will survive the journey; that the folds of the waiting, empty tents, here and there and yonder, will ever swing back to receive them. Let me paint for you, if I can, one of those shadows beside your sunshine there, with which I begun this letter. It is a white, dusty ridge in Alabama, tall, slim oaks sprinkle it, and beneath them in streets with a strange, far eastern look, stands the tents of one of those blessed Cities of Mercy—a Field Hospital. The sun pours hotly down, a distant drum snarls now and then as if in a dream, the tinkling concert of a cloud of locusts—the cicada of the South—comes like the dear old sleigh-bells' chime, from a distant tree—"The loud laugh that tells the vacant mind" is unheard, the familiar sound of closing doors the children's carol never rises here. The tents swell white and sad and still—Within them lay almost three thousand soldiers, marred with all wounds conceivable, wasted with pain, parched with fever, wearily turning, wearily waiting, to take up the blessed march—Ho for the North!—That is the word, the ever-abiding charmer that "lingers still behind." It is Stevenson, it is Nashville, it is Louisville, it is home, it is heaven! Alas, for it, how they falter and sleep by the way. And each one of these men was somebody's boy once, had a mother once, a wife, a sister, a sweetheart, but "better is a friend that is near than a brother afar off," and now comes the blessed mission of woman. True, there are only two here in person, but how many in heart and work!

You have been thinking, my sisters, where is our work, in all these scenes? That snowy roll of linen that soft fold across the gashed breast, that cooling drink the rude, kind, stalwart nurse is putting to yonder boy's white lips, that delicacy this poor fellow is partaking, that dressing gown whose broidered hem those long, thin fingers are toying with, the slippers, a world too wide for the thin, faltering feet, the dish of fruit a left hand is slowly working at, his right hand laid upon our Federal altar at Chickamauga never to be lifted more. Your tree, my sister, bore that fruit, your fingers wrought, your heart conceived "What do the women say about us boys at home?" slowly asked a poor wreck of a lad, as I sat by his side. That brow of his ached, I know, for the touch of a loving hand, "and the sound of a voice that is still." At the moment he asked the question he was turning over a little silken needle-book that one of you laughing girls made some day, and tucked in a corner of a bag labelled "U S Sanitary Commission." On the cover of that book you had wrought the words, playfully perhaps, "my bold soldier boy." I silently pointed to the legend, the reply struck home to his heart and he burst into tears. I assure you they were not bitter tears he shed, and as he wiped them away with a white film of a handkerchief you girls had hemmed for him, his question was twice answered and he was content. His eyelids closed down, his breathing grew regular, he had fallen asleep, and I thought it was a picture of the "Soldier's Dream" over again.

You hear of the malappropriation of your gifts but never fear one grain may fail, but two will spring up and blossom out into "forget me nots." Your work is everywhere. Go with me to that tent standing apart, it is the Dead house tent. Four boys in their brown blankets, four white wood coffins, four labels with four names on four still breasts. Two of the four garments the sleepers wear are of linen from your stores, stitched by your fingers. Verily, the Ladies' Soldiers Aid Societies should be named "Mary," for are they not like her of old, "last at the cross and earliest at the grave!"

"When can I go home, Doctor?" is the question forever shaped by the lips and asked by the eyes, as he goes his daily rounds. There was a train of cars at last—box cars—cattle cars if you like it better—drawn up opposite the hospital, and I stood there on a bright morning at [illegible] o'clock [illegible] four hundred or boys [illegible] carried out [illegible] come over the hill to take the train. It was the Wounded Brigade [illegible] eyes were [illegible] [illegible] entrance—of your loving kindness. It was announced to them the night before that they were going home and there was no sleep for joy. Some of them had actually watched the night out in the open air like the Chaldean shepherds [illegible] chance the train should go away without them But they were hopeful and heart [illegible] [illegible] would go by and by. That Wounded [illegible] eyes aim at the [illegible] stance now no martial step [illegible] no gleaming arms. I should [illegible] human [illegible] I thought of that Brigade the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with the sick and [illegible] away and I must tell you that all [illegible] that weary [illegible] the thoughtful gift [illegible] woman [illegible] up. Not in the field of [illegible] the woods of Alabama [illegible] the time [illegible] old I got out [illegible] of the [illegible] tary Commission, the Florence Nightingales of the Northwest. I want to describe their ride to-day, but cannot how they waited [illegible] General swift commotion [illegible] how they crept along at the rear of everything [illegible] [illegible] worth a chapter and a half [illegible] Sisters I have given you [illegible] the hollow which that sunshine of yours has [illegible] and glorified like the [illegible] When the scenes amid which we were and [illegible] the grand eternity of the historic page the [illegible] of the world will warm to the Women of the Northwest, soldierly daring and womanly deeds will be blended forever [illegible] of the daughters will not stain the sword of the sons [illegible] and laurel will bloom immortal together, and the [illegible] of old will strike once more on [illegible]

THEY CONTAIN

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above diseases in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
and CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

From Rev J Newton Brown D D Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

J NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1863

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr Malone, restored to life
